YOUNG DESIGNERS TO DAZZLE AT IDESIGN

2nd May 2006

The work of talented young WA designers is set to take centre stage at the iDesign Interiors Exhibition, being held at the Claremont Showgrounds this weekend.

On display in stand 132 will include a number of alluring furniture pieces including an illuminated coffee table, a dining chair inspired by the shape of a cactus plant and a set of environmentally friendly mood lights. Each and every piece has been crafted by a select group of recent WA design graduates, with the majority drawing their inspiration from nature and its dramatic landscapes.

“This showcase provides a unique opportunity for visitors to meet the future of WA design and in turn, an invaluable chance for each graduate to showcase their talent and skill to industry leaders and professionals,” says Exhibition Director Richard Campbell

The exhibition, now in its 12th year, brings together the best in innovative interior design, as well as the latest home products, furnishings and appliances. Mainly a consumer show, the event will also include a dedicated trade-only session on the Friday afternoon for the first time ever.
