

BLOOD IS THICKER THAN WATER

She turns the heads
Of the social world
Her face is money
Big money
From the camera lens
To important beds
They all want her
They all need her

But we shared the sweat
In my old man's car
The cheapest booze
The late night bars, she'll know...

Blood is thicker than water, yeah
Blood is thicker than water, yeah

It's in her blood
She can't forget
The taste of hunger
The taste of anger
When we'd run the streets
And run the night
We needed freedom
We needed freedom

If you watch the street
Through your penthouse pane
Can you feel your blood
Start to race again
Yeah you know...

Chorus

Blood is thicker than water
We were like brother and sister
Blood is thicker than water
We were like son and daughter
Blood is thicker than water

Blood is thicker than
Blood is thicker than water
Blood is thicker than
Blood is thicker than, tell me
Blood is thicker than water
We were like son and daughter
Like brother and sister
Like brother and sister
