

GASOLINE

Can you know her so well
It's a thousand years and still crystal clear
You can hear it so loud
That dirty voice deep inside your ear
She's looking at you
Yes I know it, I know it
She's looking at me
Yes I know it, I know it

Sometimes it's worth giving everything
For that one brief moment to be obscene
Like a machine

Chorus

Did you see her, burn like Gasoline
Did you see her, explode like Gasoline

She's moving around
She sells me this and she sells me that
There's no fear on her face
She's got everyone locked in their place
I remember those eyes
They were green or blue, they were stupid or wise
So the boys down the front
They'd do anything just to see her cry

Sometimes it's worth giving everything
For that one brief moment to be obscene
Like a machine

Did you see her, burn like Gasoline
Did you see her, explode like Gasoline
Yeah did you see her, white hot like Gasoline
Did you see her, burn like Gasoline

It's a great day that's coming
It's a great day right now
And I see the light burning
And it's her time right now
Like a machine
